

Childrens Challenge

So how many children made rainbows last week?

Here's the remaining challenges - see if you can link each one to a story from the bible? I think the rainbow one is easy - we can link the rainbow to the story of Noah's ark - a really good way of reflecting on 'self-isolation' - I don't think I could cope being cooped up with all those animals for all that time but we have amazing tolerances and when tested we can often surprise ourselves with our ability to withstand situations, however, it is still okay to be nervous and scared about what's happening - talk to someone about your fears - you will probably find they have them too, be honest with our children but let them know they are loved no matter what - just like our faith in God

Good luck with the remaining challenges - it would be lovely to see some of our creations posted on our facebook page in the coming weeks – you can email your creations to

Let's spread some joy to children out of school but who may still go for a walk, leave a picture as below in your window and start a mass eye spy!
